Foreword

Echoes of laughter and of groans . . .
echoes of "You've got a caller" and of "No mail again" . . . echoes of "A hundred pages of parallel" and of "Term paper due Monday" . . . echoes of "Get scarce, please" and of "Let's pull ourselves together" . . . echoes of "Today is chapel day" and of "Wonder what we're having for lunch" . . . echoes of "Meet you in the Book Store" and of "I'm out of money again" . . . echoes of "Hurry up" and of "I'll be out of the shower in a minute" . . . echoes of leaves rustling in the fall and of the never-ending lawnmower in the spring . . .

 echoes of "Great dance" and of "Let's shag" . . . echoes of "Score, team" and of "Ride him, Shirley" . . . echoes of banging pianos and of ticking metronomes . . .
 echoes of dripping faucets and of clicking typewriters into the night . . . echoes of midnight parties and of early morning alarm clocks . . . echoes of "Three days until holidays" and of "It's so good to see everybody" . . . quiet echoes of vesper bells and of reverent calm . . . echoes of
 "You Are From G.C." and of "Fairest, Fairest Alma Mater" . . . Echoes of G.C.

Dedicated

To One

Seniors

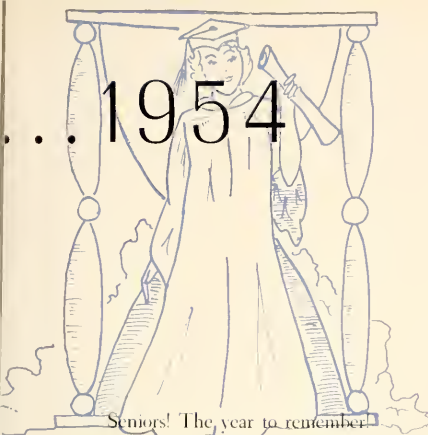

My first experience with a mortarboard!

Only two more days to teach!

Seniors! The year to remember!

Packing in required subjects ... making lesson plans ... directing campus activities ... practicing for final recitals ... expressing anxiety at "comprehensive time" ... showing real interest in diamonds and wedding plans.

Months ... days ... seconds!

Through it all, we are drawn closer ... a web of activities surrounded by love, fellowship, and happiness.

Autumn leaves ... winter cold ... spring buds!

The passing seasons bring sadness. We express good wishes to those behind us, appreciation to our Faculty, success to each other, and love to Greensboro College, which has made us aware.

Senior Superlatives

Whether making posters, doing art work for the ECHO, or painting "real pictures" in art class, ENIMA MAXWELL is our MOST TALENTED.

LEE NEAL, "Skee" to all her friends, can be counted on to help in any situation—and she's talented, too. Certainly, she was voted the BEST ALL ROUND.

PEGGY ANN JOYNER is the BEST STUDENT. Her efficient manner and her sense of responsibility for a job well done serve as a challenge to her whole class.

Name the time, place, and sport and PEGGY SIMPSON will be there. Her support adds zest to any athletic event. Her superlative—MOST ATHLETIC, of course.

That ready wit and winning smile make FRANCES SHARPE the life of any gathering. She is, in fact, the MOST POPULAR girl in the Senior Class.

With her lively conversation, quiet guidance, and steady ambition, ANNE ACEY will rapidly fill her place as the MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED.

Freshmen

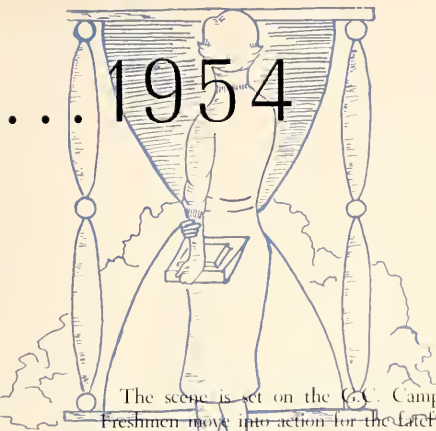

Ask him how tall his roommate is.

How these Freshmen concentrate!

We're so homesick!

The scene is set on the G.C. Campus. The Freshmen move into action for the Latchful drama of their first year at college.

At first activities go along smoothly—everyone making new friends. Rush Week is fun and Decision Night climaxes this first act.

The plot thickens with tests and “unsats.” Rat Day adds suspense, but everyone relaxes when the

"It's the Philharmonic playing 'Romco and Juliet' "—but, no—it's the G.C. CHAMBER ORCHESTRA presenting another of its concerts of beautiful song.

Under the direction of Mr. Hansen, this talented group leaves an echo of melodious strains wherever they go.

"One Day A Kitten Came To School . . ."

"Creep, Mr. Caterpillar, Creep. . ." No, this isn't kindergarten; this is the girls of the MUSIC EDUCATION CLUB practicing furiously for their next day's classes. These versatile young ladies acquire valuable experience in teaching every age group from the nursery through high school. They direct glee clubs, teach folk games, and work with rhythm bands. We salute them—the up and coming Toscaninis.

"Your roommate has a phone call."

"She's in Odell."

And so it goes with all music students. Another thing that goes with all music students is the MUSIC CLUB. Constant effort and tireless energy characterize these girls.

Want to know the difference between fortissimo and pianissimo? Call Odell and ask for a member of the Music Club.

"Bill Williams' GLEE CLUB'S The Best In The South"

It's true! In spite of grueling bus trips, many hours of rehearsal, a solid tour week of no food but chicken salad, and the prospect of facing anew each semester the most impossible music Mr. Williams can dig up, this organization seems to radiate to all with whom it comes in contact the true spirit of G.C.

MRS. CHARLOTTE S. PERKINS
Director

"What's this? Girls coming in the dorm at 12:30? This is the fourth night I've seen those same ones sneaking in at this hour . . . have Handbooks been changed? No—they wouldn't be dating in blue jeans. Good gracious! Those two look like they've fallen into a pot of grease paint—and their talk!"

"Emaginez Vous, Mademoiselle?" Charlene inquires.

"Ach, Where is Hans?" questions Sissy.

"Those lights have got to be changed again," complains Pat.

"Now I know! Play time is almost here, and the girls are burning the night wick getting ready for opening night."

Yes, whether it's tigers and monkeys in "Little Black Sambo" or international intrigue and heartbreak in "Letters to Lucerne," the hard-working Players always capture their audiences with their clever lines and realistic scenery.

The monkeys peck at Sambo's new umbrella.

Letters must be read before bed time.

Costumes ... scenery ... make-up ... the right chair in that corner ... tricky lines ... proper sound effects ... a million problems of a successful production. These are just routine to the G.C. PLAYERS; they always act their part to perfection.

Nancetta, Susan, and Charlene star on television as they present a scene from "Letters to Lucerne."

Joan watches carefully as Burnell and Mary Lou apply the familiar grease paint, lines, and powder.

ROSE HOLLAND
President

"Betsy, how about swimming for the Seniors in the swimming meet Tuesday night? . . . Jean, don't forget basketball practice at 8:00 . . . won't you students please come out and support your team on Play Day?"

These are just a few of the periodical headaches of the ATHLETIC BOARD. The members of this board are the muscles behind Play Day and the be-all and the end-all for the sporting activities of the campus.

Hurrah for the Green and White.

Hurrah for our own G.C.!

Hurrah for the girls who, despite aches and bruises, were awarded the coveted "letter" and are now members of the "G" CLUB.

Horse Show

"Hi ho, Ginger, ha-way!"

Just an over exuberant Bit-and-Spurer galloping at full speed around the Sedgefield ring during the annual HORSE SHOW. Enthusiasm and determination reign as these riders of the range put their horses through their paces and compete for the coveted Blue Ribbon.

Hats off to them—the saddle veterans of G.C.

Perfect ease and relaxation!

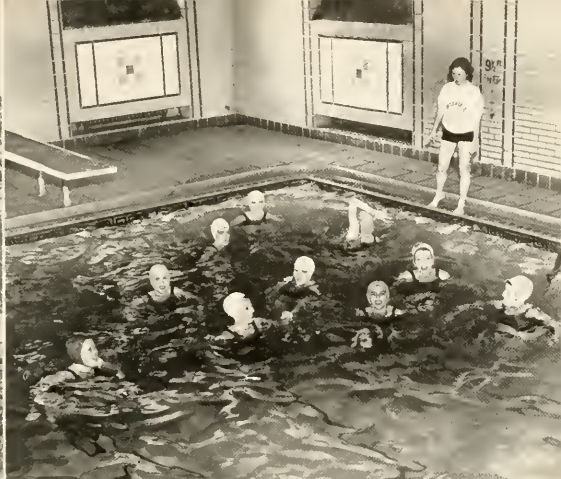

Only one more time around!

Look! Competition for Ben Hogan!

Splash glub gulp whee!

Sports

Good exercise, fresh air, blistered hands, and muttered replies characterize the members of the Tuesday afternoon golf class. No matter whether practicing at the driving range or hiking around the course from hole to hole, the girls manage to keep in the "swing" of things. Don't bother to ask for their score cards!

"Anybody for tennis?" Ask this at G.C. and you'll have no lack of partners. This is one of the campus favorites—winter or summer, rain or sun, class credit or "just plain old fun."

This is only my first lesson!

Who dares to brave the frozen regions of the Great "Y" Swimming Pool? Who denies the forces of danger as she plunges headlong (most of the time) into nine feet of water? Why, the lovely mermaid of the swimming class—in her tank suit, of course!

Whether it's competing with other schools at the annual Play Day or showing off skill to friends in other classes here at G.C., the girls thrill to the thought of volley ball. Over the net the great ball goes, accompanied by screams, howls, and a few prayers for victory.

Get it over, Gal!

Rush Week Is Climaxed With Irving Victory

G.C.'s Decision Night, September 12, brought an Irving victory of 77 to 46 with the climax to a week's rushing by the Emerson and Irving societies.

Competition between the organizations for new transfer members was intense. Cross, Pease, and Francis were the winners.

Students and Odell greeted her as she descended the chimes soon after the new members were added to the rolls. They were singing.

The days of the week were filled with activities. Society meetings were held in the society halls on Friday evenings. A glimpse of the social procedure as well as the skits.

Something new has been added—none other than a bigger and better council room for that hard-working council of the STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION.

Have you wondered what kept the members busy all year? Listen closely: One council member, for the students' benefit, stayed in the council room at appointed hours to help with any personal problems, they promoted the National Students' Association, held high our honor system, led in observing G.C. Day, and sponsored our Handbook—to mention a few things.

Hats off to our council, which has made student government real on this campus!

Greetings and a hearty welcome to the Freshmen . . . Wednesday evening Fellowship, with all its fun and gaiety . . . Sunday night vespers with its gift of quiet meditation . . . morning watch to start off the day right . . . Religious Emphasis Week with its carefully chosen leaders . . . the Hut with all its facilities for entertainment—including a kitchen . . . a dazzling Christmas tree in the parlor, adding zest to the holiday spirit . . . the annual Christmas party for the underprivileged children, providing fun and satisfaction to the visiting children and the "College Children" alike. All the girls at G.C. working together—that is our STUDENT CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP.

All these go together to make the Irvings a grand and much beloved society.

I couldn't believe that man carried all that conglomeration of instruments and made music with them at the same time . . . My little sisters went Emerson . . . I went down to buy that gorgeous dress we saw modeled in our fashion show . . . Oh, to be able to fix my hair the way that stylist showed us . . . This summer I had everyone helping me make red barns out of construction paper for the Open House . . . Wasn't that a grand dance? . . . so go the echoes from the Emerson Society Hall.

Scholastic Smarties

Who says A's and B's are scarce in college? Well, certainly not one of the members of the SENIOR HONOR SOCIETY—a select few who have stayed on the job and as a result don't have to count very far down the alphabet for their coveted grades. Intelligent perseverant dependable truly deserving recognition through this outstanding campus organization.

Greensboro's Gift

Sandwiches for an open house? . . . card tables for a dance? . . . or maybe it's just directions around Greensboro that you need. No matter what it is the DAY STUDENTS are always ready to help.

Proud as peacocks of their new room in Main, the girls are busily making plans to improve it, although it already seems like home. It looks so cozy that one can hardly pass without stopping for a chat.

Getting to class on time sometimes presents a problem when it's cold and icy and the car won't start. Nevertheless, the day students "always come through." They find time, too, to join in sponsoring many activities—a tea for new students, the Christmas Dance, parties, and a banquet.

To Do Or Not To Do

Want to know where to wear blue jeans? Do you know whether you can wear pajamas to the book store and kerchiefs in the dining room? Just ask these girls on the SOCIAL STANDARDS COMMITTEE. They pass all laws of where to go and where not to go—a job they carry out in tip-top fashion.

Their shoes may not be mirror shiney, but they're pretty (pardon the expression) "well polished."

First row: Blackwell, Secretary-Treasurer; Scarborough, Publicity Chairman; Finch, President; Homesley, Watkins, Wyne, Fields, Connelly, Gregg, Betty Harris. "One World Built On A Firm Foundation"

Who knows—maybe G.C. is harboring a future U.N. delegate among its collection of brains! At any rate, if you want the answer to the world's problems, ask any member of the WORLD FEDERALISTS. If she doesn't know, she will at least start your thinking process. Better still, come and join in their meetings.

The Girls In The Know

"Oh, those lucky freshmen who had to attend only two orientation programs!"

"That's true, but they certainly knew the answers on the Handbook test."

"Does that mean we did a good job of teaching, or that these freshmen are super bright?"

"Can't you guess?"

Yes, these are the girls who help the new students to understand the Handbook and who orient them into the swing of campus life—that is to say, the FRESHMAN COUNSELORS.

Freshman Counselors: Knight, Diehl, Foster, Goodman, McElrath, Ross, B. R. Via, Betts, Craven, Jenkins, Kiser, Pugh, Ratliff, Talton, Turlington, A. E. Walker, Bates, Gaddy, Ballard, Francis, King, Mav, Shinn, R. A. White, N. J. Warren, Jo Schwarz, Chairman.

Southern Belles

"Save your Confederate money, Girls, the South will rise again!"

The UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY, with their Southern ancestry, share a common feeling of kinship as they collect bits of Southern history and preserve historic shrines. However, the South isn't their only interest: they sponsor various scholarships as well.

Advocates Of The Abstract

First row: DuBose, Hooper, Wright, Seagroves, Publicity Chairman; Bradsher, Watkins, Finch, Starke, President; Maxwell, Vice President. Second row: Miss Cullis, McElrath, Palmore, Horn, York, M. J. Harris, J. Love, Diehl, Secretary-Treasurer. Not pictured: Oaklev, Downum, Cranford, Burkhead.

Bright splashes of color . . . peculiar shapes and line segments . . . hidden meanings—all found on the canvas of a member of the ART CLUB. With a flick of the brush she is able to capture such memorable and familiar sights as an exceptionally beautiful sunset . . . a full moon shining through the trees . . . the red, orange, and yellow hues of our maple trees in the fall.

These enviable geniuses, with Miss Cullis and visiting speakers keeping them well informed, are truly one of G.C.'s most cultured groups.

Seated: Miss Smith, Craver, Sanders, President; Turlington, Vice-President; Young, Secretary-Treasurer; Miss Cole. Standing: M. Long, Edwards, Gunter, Holland. Not pictured: Baddour.

Look At This!

"Know how many ribs a butterfly has?"

"Know what's the quickest acting poison?"

"Know what makes green leaves green?"

Just ask a member of the CENOZOIC CLUB. These girls, through interesting programs and trips to the city and state laboratories, are fast becoming the Einsteins of tomorrow.

It Must Be Those P.K.'s

"You're a P.K.? I never would have known it!"

"You mean you can't tell? Well, I don't know whether to be pleased or disappointed. You know what people say . . ."

"I, for one, certainly wouldn't want to trade life as a PREACHER'S KID for any other I know. It has its ins and outs—its goings and comings, too—but it's a great life!"

Yes, this is the club in which the P.K.'s get together and discuss their common problems and pleasures. They say that it helps to be with those who understand!

Seated: Morton, A. Taylor, Groah, Price, Washam, White, Jolyn Davidson, McLarty, Co-Chairman of W.S.C.S.; Betts, Brantley, District Superintendent; Palmore, Parker, Stough, Minister; Sharpe, Bishop. Links With The Past

When my mother was here . . . You think these rules are bad! . . . Lucille Hodges? Why my aunt knew her . . . Grandmother said that one time . . .

Snatches of conversation overheard at a G.C. DAUGHTERS meeting indicate that this is a special group of G.C. gals. Bound together by friendships and traditions begun decades ago, these girls know better than any of us that our joys and sorrows and our work and prayers are not the first to become synonymous with G.C.

Chili Con Carne To You, Too

"Son las—how do you say 2:00?"

Baffled? Well, the members of the SPANISH CLUB aren't. Up on all their irregular conjugations and new vocabularies, these girls are ready to head down Mexico way. Mexican and Cuban pen-pals, Spanish suppers, and meetings with Guilford Spanish students add that extra dash of seasoning to their monthly meetings.

Horizons widened . . . language barrier broken down . . . rich store of centuries . . . old French culture penetrated . . . insight into a people, a nation, a way of life.

"Foreign" language is not so foreign to the members of the FRENCH CLUB. Those words that looked so strange and those once unintelligible sounds soon become simply, "Bonjour, comment allez-vous?"

Study of the music, art, literature, games and customs give a link with the French people and language that will never quite be broken.

I Wonder What She Said . . .

"What are those weird sounds coming from your room?"

"That's only my roommate practicing her German pronunciation."

Fellowship, fun, and information characterize this group of German-studying girls. German games and songs are a large part of their meetings and they say this speaking of "foreign" language even gets to be fun.

So, if you enjoy making guttural noises and hearing them in return, you would be welcome to attend the GERMAN CLUB.

Who Said Math Is All Work?

"Would you like to hop a rocket to the moon? Then come on down to the projection room and see the new film on the possibilities. It's sponsored by the MATH CLUB."

"I believe I'd rather go out to Guilford Park for your annual picnic than to shoot to the moon. It sounds more logical."

Yes, those people who aren't scared away by the name of the club enjoy a variety of activities and gain some valuable information under the leadership of Judy and Dr. Boyd.

Attention young man: either change your mind or make the Miss Join the HOME ECONOMICS CLUB. These are the gals who know the ropes on cooking and sewing and all the other higher things of life.

Good Citizens

"I attended the U.N. last Monday night."

"What? I didn't know you had been away."

"I wasn't, of course! I mean I attended the mock session of the U.N. put on by the INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB. You know, I've sure learned a lot from our discussions and programs on world affairs. It makes you really feel grand to know what's going on in the world of today."

Religion Speaks

A distinctive feature of G.C. is its RELIGIOUS EDUCATION CLUB, consisting, in the main, of religion majors and minors.

The activities of the club include such worthwhile projects as visiting the homes for the aged, the polio and the cerebral palsy hospitals, and various church educational plants throughout Greensboro. Such activities give genuine vocational training and promote an interest in the betterment of our communities.

School Marms

"When was the war of 1812 fought?" . . . "Who was buried in Grant's tomb?" Such are the questions the FUTURE TEACHERS are answering in the primary, elementary, and high schools.

Most of the time the wearied wretches feel as if they were fumbling in the dark, but then when it's all over, they remember their student teaching as a bright and happy experience.

Night Life Lovers

Eleventh Commandment: Thou shalt not let thy roommate sleep through a fire drill.

Why can't they leave us alone? . . . Don't they know we need our beauty rest? They could at least warn us!

First they shock us with a clamouring bell . . . Next comes the costume of P.J.'s, raincoats, old shoes, and a towel shawl . . . Then, a mad dash to greet the icy air . . . A period of confused heres and presents follows . . . And then we're left anxiously to await another fire drill.

Is there a purpose for this treatment? The FIRE WARDENS must get more than pleasure from these night raids. They're busy little firewomen whose minds are on the safety of G.C.

Hours of rehearsal on Wednesday nights . . . trips down town to pick out records . . . time spent making costumes and scenery . . . one, two, three, four . . . aches and bruises . . . "Stand still, now!" . . . "Wonder how this looks from the audience?" . . . "Let's try just one more time" . . . all add up to polished performances by the girls of the MODERN DANCE GROUP.

Say It With Dance

First row: Graham, Young, Beasley, Starke, Wagner, Treasurer; McLarty. Second row: Howle, President; M. Wilson, Secretary; Neal, Vice-President; Haltom, Corzine, Seagroves, Huggins.

Write and Re-write

There must be some way to put more than twenty-four working hours in a day for the ECHO LITERARY STAFF . . . Do you spell it "counselor" or "counsaler"? . . . Another typewriter ribbon worn out.

Dr. Carpenter really liked it worded this way . . . Mr. Miller, our photographer, has gotten familiar with every ladder on this campus . . . Did it have to rain today? . . . There must be some other place to take a picture . . . Will it suit you to meet Tuesday? . . . How did Christmas get here so fast? . . . We will meet the deadline—and we did!

On The Go

"I can't afford to sell ads any longer!"

"Surely it doesn't cost that much to have your shoes re-soled every week—and look at the weight you lose going from here to town."

"No, I mean every time I walk through a store to sell an ad, I see so many pretty things that I want to spend all my money."

Expensive? Yes. Time consuming? Yes. Exasperating? Yes. But the BUSINESS STAFF of the ECHO always comes out on top, waving those signed contracts.

"Journalism Will Kill You . . ."

PEGGY ANN JOYNER
Editor-in-Chief

"Journalism will kill you—but it will keep you alive while you're at it." It will keep the reporters alive trying to get the news, the editor alive rewording, re-writing and breathing the fresh air between the campus and the Advocate Office, and the subscribing public alive, entertained, and informed. Thus—the story of our COLLEGIAN.

Never Say Die

"Do you think we could get an ad from the cement company if we promised to build a sidewalk from Hudson to the Railroad track?"

Yes, they get pretty desperate sometimes, but these business women of the world—the members of the BUSINESS STAFF of the COLLEGIAN—always manage to get those ads and to keep the paper coming.

Hold That Pose

"How did that picture of the class officers get in the Greensboro paper, I wonder?"

The members of the PRESS CLUB are the ones to thank. These girls gather all the G.C. news and send it in to the daily papers. They're an active and busy staff.

So, if you want your picture in the paper, just see the Press Club.
